And, on another topic...

Q33 Recently, a Supreme Court Justice passed away leaving a vacancy on the court. President Obama has nominated a new person to serve on the U.S. Supreme Court.

Would you prefer the U.S. Senate vote this year on the replacement nominated by President Obama or leave the position vacant and wait to vote next year on the replacement nominated by the new president or do you not have an opinion one way or the other?

¹ The February and March introduction read: Recently, a Supreme Court Justice passed away leaving a vacancy on the court. President Obama will nominate a new person to serve on the U.S. Supreme Court.

Q34 The U.S. Constitution requires the President to nominate a candidate to fill an opening on the Supreme Court. The U.S. Senate has the responsibility to confirm or reject a nominee. Republicans who control the Senate say they will not hold confirmation hearings and have no plans to consider a nominee put forward by President Obama.

Do you approve or disapprove of this decision not to consider President Obama's nominee, or do you not have an opinion one way or the other? (IF "APPROVE" OR "DISAPPROVE," ASK:) And do you strongly (approve/disapprove) or just somewhat (approve/disapprove)?

Now, thinking about something else...

Q35

Now, in your view, should the United States become more active in world affairs, less active in world affairs, or continue its current level of activity in world affairs?
